WEDNESDAY MARCH 15
11:30 AM-1:00 PM @ BACHMAN HALL

FOR THE FIRST TIME IN A CENTURY, Bachman Hall has become “Fort Bachman,” its doors closed to the students of the University. Under the rule of Pres. David McClain and his $1,000 a day salary, student and faculty voices are being shut out and ignored. On a range of key issues – tuition increases, dormitory repair, UARC, Save Haloa, Mauna Kea – the administration is acting against the will of the student body, the faculty, Native Hawaiians, and all of us. Let’s speak out and demand to be heard!

UARC

In the last 15 months, an overwhelming majority of the university community has come to oppose the UARC Navy research center, including students, faculty, and Kanaka Maoli organizations. In the last few weeks, a small number of military contractors and the elite of the business community have come out supporting UARC. McClain soon recommended that UARC be approved. Who does McClain represent?

SAVE HALOA

Hundreds gathered earlier this month at Bachman Hall to protest the patenting of Haloa, the elder sibling of Kanaka Maoli. McClain did not make an appearance – he was on vacation.

TUITION

Student governments throughout Hawaii rejected a proposed tuition increase during a time of rising costs of living and skyrocketing housing prices. The Board of Regents voted unanimously for the increase.

CENSORSHIP

An ASUH mailing to inform dorm residents of their rights was censored by housing officials last fall.

DORMS

UH dorms are in dire need of repairs, but instead the administration is putting scarce resources into promoting secret military research and an overfunded presidency.
