

4th Annual Memorial Day
PICNIC WITH A PURPOSE

Mākua Beach

*under the kamani tree,
across the road from the Army guard tower*

Monday, May 26, 1997

10:00 a.m. - 2:00 p.m.

Memorial Day is traditionally a time of honoring the men and women who sacrificed their lives for the causes of freedom and liberty. Today, these ideals are being claimed in the Hawaiian struggles for justice and self-determination. Mākua is a place whose past and present continue to tell the ongoing story of this movement. On this day set aside to honor the dead, let us come together as a presence against threats to Hawaiian burial sites and sacred places, and in support of the return of the land to its people.

Join us in the spirit of this day. Bring family, friends, and food to share as we enjoy the sun and ocean, making music and talking story. Aloha.
